Logline/Short Synopsis

Pierced in his side by a magical thorn, a fisherman travels across the great ocean in search of the star beyond the sea, which, legend says, gives those who find her a gift beyond all telling.

The Project

An epic trilogy of fairytales full of Biblical and ecclesial symbolism for an audience that is starving for beautiful storytelling. This is an original, Biblical concept adapted for the ancient western fairytale tradition. While the story is made for families, especially older children/teenagers, the universal nature of the fairytale tradition bespeaks the possibility of a much larger audience. Being filled with Biblical imagery, The Star Beyond the Sea appeals in a particular way to Christian audiences, but is being created with such beautiful and compelling storytelling/artwork that anyone of goodwill may appreciate its artistic excellence and moral character.

With your investment we will have the ability to produce:

- Part I complete graphic novel
- Parts II and III finalized scripts
- Part I full film storyboard
- Animatic and trailer to pitch the film to the Angel Investor's Guild

Repayment Plan

We have the opportunity for two different revenue streams in the creation of this project:

- Graphic novel sales
- Fundraising for the feature film with the Angel Investor's Guild

Why it works

We are not simply relying on building our own independent audience for the graphic novel or the film. We are already in talks with publishers for a graphic novel deal. When sales begin, after publishing fees, you will be paid first.

The Angel Investors are hungry for animated projects. Angel has only distributed two theatrical animated films as of this writing, both in 2025, which together yielded $169,000,000 at the box office – this does not include streaming revenue. This project is exactly what they want to invest in, and with our animatic we will have the ability to raise the full return on your investment before we produce the film. You will also have the opportunity to invest in the film at this time for the possibility of even greater returns.

Other benefits to investing:

- Supporting morally uplifting, powerful works of art that the world desperately needs
- Opportunities to invest in the next stage of production for a higher, ongoing yield
- Entrance into the investor's circle with exclusive access to created media and production updates
